

MUNICIPAL USE OF NATURAL RESOURCE PROTECTION TOOLS

Stream Corridor Protection

Stream Corridor Protection Ordinances ensure that vegetated riparian buffers are maintained by requiring development to be set back from stream banks, floodlains and wetland areas and by limiting the use and intensity of activities within the corridor. Buffer widths typically range from 25 to 300 feet, depending on the community's goals.

 YES  NO

