Ambler has abundant opportunities for everyone.

Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia is an initiative of the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission (DVRPC) designed to foster the growth of the region’s older communities by promoting what makes each community a wonderful place to live, work, and play.

Explore Ambler and the other Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia at ClassicTowns.org

PHOTO CREDITS: FRONT/BACK: MICHAEL FAZIO, EXPLORE THIS TOWN: LUKE CLEARY, HOMES & COMMUNITY: JILL CACERES (TOP ROW), JOHN ERIC SCHNEIDER (BOTTOM), ACTIVITIES & DESTINATIONS: R. KENNEDY FOR VISIT PHILADELPHIA™
Homes & Community
Safe and walkable streets, plentiful parks, countless cultural and entertainment opportunities, and reasonable rents and housing prices all contribute to what makes Ambler an amazing place to live. Attracting residents of all ages, many are drawn by Ambler. From preschools through senior centers, churches to community centers, grocery markets to gourmet eateries, all can be found in Ambler. Ambler’s housing stock is older architecture with more than 900 buildings that are eligible for inclusion on the historic registry.

Ambler covers less than a square mile and is extremely walkable.

Business & Economy
Main Street is Ambler’s commercial and economic center. It offers a mix of retailers, restaurants, professional services, and more. Connections to public transportation, large municipal parking lots, and accessibility to Route 309 and other major transportation arteries make it easy for clients and customers to come and go.

Activities & Destinations
Ambler is an amazing place to play. The borough maintains six public parks, with Ambler Borough Park serving as the centerpiece. There are many opportunities for more active endeavors, ranging from baseball to bocce ball, soccer to skateboarding. As day turns to dusk, many of Ambler’s residents enjoy a meal at one of the many restaurants.

Ambler is 15 miles north of Philadelphia with numerous connections to public transportation.