

Agricultural Zoning

Agricultural zoning is a technique that allows municipalities to protect their rural and agricultural areas by establishing large minimum lot areas. This map shows municipalities that have agricultural zoning districts with 10-20 acre minimum lot sizes and municipalities that have districts with 20 acre or larger minimum lot sizes.

Minimum Lot Size

- 10-20
- More than 20

