DELAWARE VALLEY REGIONAL PLANNING COMMISSION

REGIONAL DATA BULLETIN

Housing Units Authorized by Residential Building Permits, 1990-1999

No. 65
June 2000

The Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission is an interstate, intercounty and intercity agency that provides comprehensive and coordinated planning for the orderly growth of the Delaware Valley region. As the region's metropolitan planning organization (MPO), the Commission provides technical assistance and services to its member state and local governments. Delaware Valley Data is our periodic series of free data bulletins and analytical reports. This data bulletin contains 1990 through 1999 building permit data for the extended 28-County Data Service Region and replaces Data Bulletin No. 43, 49, 54, 60 and 61. This information is derived from reports and publications compiled by the Bureau of the Census Construction Statistics Division.

Municipalities provide the Census Bureau with tabulations of the number of housing units authorized, according to types of structures. The figures presented in this bulletin are for the total numbers of housing units authorized in each of the following three types:

- (1) One-unit structures - A single-family house, or house with one dwelling unit. Includes semi-detached and row houses if the units are separated by a ground to roof party wall. Does not include mobile homes.
- (2) Two-unit structures - A duplex or house with two dwelling units. If built side by side, they do not have a ground-to-roof party wall and generally have a common attic, basement, heating plant and other features.
- (3) Structures with three or more units - Each building contains three or more housing units having a common basement, heating plant, stairs, water supply and disposal facilities, or entrance. Triplexes, garden apartments, and high-rise buildings are included in this category; condominiums and cooperatively-owned apartment buildings may also be included.

Recent Trends in Building Permit Activity

Table 1 summarizes residential building permit activity by type of structure for each county in the region during the decade spanning 1990 to 1999. During this time period, the largest percentage of building permit activity within the five Pennsylvania counties occurred in Bucks, Montgomery, and Chester counties. Within the four New Jersey counties, the largest percentage of building permit activity took place in Burlington County. Table 2 identifies the fifteen municipalities in the 9-county Delaware Valley region that had the highest numbers of new housing units authorized by residential permit between 1990 and 1999.

Table 3, which begins on page 3, lists new housing units authorized by type of structure for all municipalities in the 28-county region for 1990 through 1994. Table 4, which begins on page 23, lists new housing units authorized by type of structure for these municipalities for 1995 through 1999. Most of the numbers in Tables 3 and 4 are as reported directly by the municipality listed. Where municipalities did not report building permit activity throughout the entire twelve months of the year, the Census Bureau reports the total yearly number of building permits through imputation; that is, the total number is estimated, based on past building permit activity in that municipality. Tables 5 and 6, on pages 43 and 44, provide county, sub-regional and regional totals of building permit activity.

While data on the numbers and types of authorized residential construction are useful indicators of where development is taking place, data users must be cautious in using these statistics as indices of municipal population growth. For instance, there can be substantial delays between the issuance of a building permit and construction of the dwelling. When large apartment buildings are involved, for example, completion of construction may take several years. The Census Bureau estimates that 98% of all housing units authorized are actually constructed.

The permit activity reported in this bulletin refers to new construction only, and does not include the production of housing units through conversions or alterations (unless the construction costs exceed $100,000.) Nor do the permit data take into account the gains or losses to the housing stock that result from changes in the use of structures, or for units removed due to demolition, fire damage, other forms of destruction or abandonment. Finally, building permit tabulations cannot provide any information on occupancy or vacancy, or on the types and sizes of households which occupy either the newly constructed units or the already existing housing stock.

Data Bulletins regarding population and housing characteristics, as well as building permits for 1980 through 1989, are available from the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission by calling (215) 592-1800 or by visiting our website (www.dvrpc.org).

NOTES:

- The following municipalities boundaries cross two or more counties. The Census Bureau reports building permits for selected municipalities and does not divide permits between counties:
 - Milford City - Kent and Sussex counties, DE
 - Smyrna Town - Kent and New Castle counties, DE
 - Adamstown Borough - Berks and Lancaster counties, PA
 - Telford Borough - Bucks and Montgomery counties, PA
 - Bethlehem City - Lehigh and Northampton counties, PA
- New Morgan Borough was formed from portions of Robeson and Caernavon townships in Berks County, Pennsylvania.
- Birmingham Township, Delaware County, officially changed its name to Chadds Ford township in January 1997. Building permit data was first reported under the new name in 1998. For historical data continuity, 1998 and 1999 data is listed under the former name of Birmingham Township.
- A dash (-) indicates that information is not available.
- This data bulletin was created from the latest electronic files available from the Census Bureau and may include data which has been updated from previous published data bulletins.
- The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) changed their definition of CMSA and PMSA in 1992. Any comparison of this data with earlier data should be done with caution.

Data bulletin #65 is one of a series of bulletins designed to disseminate information to member state, county and local governments and other interested parties. For more information on Data Bulletins and Analytical Data Reports, please visit the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission’s website (www.dvrpc.org) or contact DVRPC at the telephone number below.

The Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission was established in 1965 by interstate compact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey to plan for the orderly growth and development of the region, and to provide a variety of planning and technical assistance services responding to regional issues. DVRPC maintains a significant database for twenty-eight counties encompassing New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania and Maryland. Included in the database are data profiles at the regional, county and municipal level and for other census geography as requested. DVRPC produces a diverse range of services, including demographic and economic data and projections; mapping and aerial photography; computer assisted mapping; geographic information systems; impact studies; and policy and program development.
